Charter of the World's Freedom

The peace treaty, including, as it does, the covenant of the League of Nations, which has been presented to Germany for signature, is without question one of the most important documents ever drafted in the history of this old world. It takes its place along with Magna Charta, the American Declaration of Independence as an instrument of the first magnitude in providing for and safeguarding the liberties of the world. Magna Charta and the Declaration of Independence were for the English-speaking peoples of the world; the rights and liberties which we prize so highly, and in defence of which we are ever ready to lay down our lives, and they had their origin on other nations. But the treaty of Versailles, 1919, is designed to guarantee the rights and liberties, not of one race or one nation, but of all races and all nations.

The penalties imposed on Germany are severe, but who will say they are not just and necessary? Insofar as Germany is deprived of territory, Europe is taken away from her, not in a spirit of revenge nor of aggrandizement on the part of the allies, but in order to right wrongs inflicted by Germany on others in the heyday of her autocratic military power. She loses her colonies because she demonstrated that she was not a fit nation to be trusted with power over subject peoples or native races.

The German people have not shown down through the centuries, time and time again, that in their hands power was misused and abused, that they thoroughly believed in and acted upon their doctrine that Might was Right. Therefore, power has been taken away from them, their army and navy destroyed, and the most drastic prohibition imposed in order to the peace of the world. It has been found necessary to even circumscribe and restrict the use they may make of economic weapons, because, in the past, Germans manipulated their finances, industries, transportation systems, shipping, trade and commerce as parts of their military machine.

As the huge sums of money which Germany must pay to the allies are not extorted from her as was the indemnity which Germany imposed on France in 1871, Germany then imposed a fine on France, but today the allies are not compelling Germany to make restitution and reparation for the wanton destruction she has caused in Belgium, France, Czechoslovakia and other countries and for the crimes committed against inoffensive non-combatants.

combatants contrary to all the accepted usages of war.

The peace treaty, however, is much more than the infliction of just punishment on Germany for the horrors and sufferings she brought upon the world and the enforcement of guarantees against a repetition of the outrage. With its League of Nations covenant it is a declaration of principles for the guidance of all nations, large and small, in their dealings with one another. It does even more than that—it lays down principles which are to govern within the nations themselves in their dealings with their own people.

Well defined principles are laid down under which the more advanced will be to be entrusted with management of the less advanced territories and less enlightened peoples. Where people are not yet capable of self-government, they are to be governed, not for the benefit and aggrandizement of the governing body, but for the advancement and in the welfare of the people themselves. So too, it is clearly defined that in all nations the man who works with his hands, and puts his physical strength in his work, is no longer to be regarded as a mere commodity to be used for profit, but as a human being, a partner in the world's work.

No longer are the small and weak nations of the world to be forced to live in constant dread under the menacing sword in the hands of a stronger nation; no longer are peoples and races to be held subject to a foreign yoke; no longer will the ruthless Turk be held to put his Armenian slaves to the fire and sword; no longer will it be necessary that millions of men be held in the hands of a stronger nation; no longer will huge conscript armies while other millions are burdened with taxes to maintain them in idleness; no longer is the chief business of Europe to be war and preparation for war. The peace treaty declares that it is to be the international business of the world for the masses, to provide satisfaction for the health of mankind, to put down slavery in all its forms, to seek the destruction of the opium traffic and other vices—in a word to build up and benefit, not to tear down and blight.

The peace treaty and the League of Nations covenant are not perfect. It is a human document, and subject to all human weaknesses and frailties. But its intention is good, and the best minds in the world have been responsible for its drafting. It may fail in its whole object, but failure will not result from a lack of sincere effort to attain success. It is the charter of a world's freedom—a contract of release from the age-old crime of war. It remains for the masses of the peoples of the world, who are the real sufferers in all wars, to insist that it be lived up to and fully respected.

Cordova, Man. May 26. — To parents who are anxious or worried about the health of their growing children, this notice must prove a message of gladness. So many cases similar to this one have come to our attention that we are now in a position to offer a new and more effective treatment for St. Vitus' Dance, the most effective treatment for all such conditions, which result from nervous exhaustion.

To children who are naturally nervous the strain of school life, the pressure of the home, the results are seen in headaches, nervousness, loss of appetite and indigestion. The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food at such times soon puts them on their feet and restores health and vigor.

Mrs. Wm. Matt. Cordova, Man. writes: "My little girl, ten years old, was not very well, and I noticed some rather odd ways about her. She used to act very nervous and restless, and the doctor what could be the matter, and he lost appetite and indigestion. He said treatment wasn't for her. She was affected in this way for a year. I thought something ought to be done in the line of pills for her. I read Dr. Chase's Almanac I read several testimonials from other mothers, and I bought a box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I sent for six boxes and started this treatment with my daughter. Before she had finished the first box I could see a great change in her, and by the time she had taken the six boxes she was completely cured. She is real well now, and going to school every day. Another daughter of mine has found Dr. Chase's Catarrh Powder very beneficial, and we always keep the Kidney-Liver Pills on hand as a household remedy for backache, etc."

Attain Prosperity

George Merrick Speaks of Real Source of Wealth in Western Provinces

George Merrick, of Merrick-Anderson, well known Winnipeg wholesale merchant, who for years has been a personal interest in all matters relating to agriculture in this province, expresses the conviction that the public men of Canada who are great many others are putting the emphasis in this reconstruction period at the wrong point. This is in agricultural province, with a rich and fertile soil, and the wealth which its people will have in future years must be got from the farm.

Our government speaks about expenditures on railways, on canals, and on the building of vessels and the construction of railway equipment, and so giving employment to soldiers, but nothing about production, nothing about the two-year-old helter, nothing about the poultry. Not a word. How is the world going to be fed?

"The newspapers fall us as well as our public men. I was with the city yesterday, calling on an old friend, and I was told how much land there was between Winnipeg and Portage la Prairie which had never been under the plow. Why don't the newspapers jack us up and tell us that there is a lot of land in the little money to go out in the country and arrange to get some of this land under cultivation? There are hundreds of men in Winnipeg who could take an interest directly in agriculture with the best results both to themselves and the people of this province."

"Someone called on me a few days ago and asked me to talk about better business. I replied that the thing which I was most interested in at the moment was the wonderful cow which was so exhibitory at the old fair. We have been looking too much about business and not enough about the cow. It is the cow that makes the province rich and prosperous, and give the people of the province what they require."

Finding Market

For Range Horses

High Freight Rates Present Greatest Problem

Ottawa. — At a gathering of representatives of the livestock interests of the Dominion here, plans were considered for the finding of a market for Canada's surplus of animals, more particularly of range horses in the west.

Mr. Arkell, Dominion livestock commissioner, who returned recently from a trip to England where he went to make a study of livestock conditions, reported among other things, that there is a market in Poland for half a million horses if this could be arranged. This is the big problem to be solved for with ocean freight rates at their present high level, it would be practically impossible to land horses in the European market at a saleable figure and pay the western farmer a reasonable figure for his stock.

Charter of the World's Freedom

The peace treaty, including, as it does, the covenant of the League of Nations, which has been presented to Germany for signature, is, without question one of the most important documents ever drafted in the history of this world. It takes its place along with Magna Charta and the American Declaration of Independence as an instrument of the first magnitude in providing for the future of the world.

It is a document which, in guarding the liberties of mankind, Magna Charta and the Declaration of Independence won for the English-speaking peoples of the world, those rights and liberties which we prize so highly, and in defence of which we are ever ready to lay down our lives, and they had their effect on other nations. But the treaty of Versailles, 1919, is designed to guarantee the rights and liberties, not of one race or one nation, but of all races and all nations.

The principles imposed on Germany are severe, but who will say they are not just and necessary? Insofar as Germany is deprived of territory in Europe, it is taken away from her, not in a spirit of revenge nor of aggrandizement on the part of the allies, but in order to right wrongs inflicted by Germany on others in the heyday of her autocratic military power. She loses her colonies because she demonstrated that she was not fit nation to be trusted with power over subject peoples or native races.

The German people have been taken down through the centuries, time and time again, that in their hands power was misused and abused, that they thoroughly believed in, and acted upon their doctrine that might was right. Therefore, power has been taken from them, and they have been reduced to the status of a conquered people. It has been found necessary to even circumscribe and restrict the use they may make of economic weapons, because, in the past, Germans manipulated their finances, industries, transportation systems, shipping, trade and commerce as parts of their military machine.

The huge sums of money which Germany must pay to the allies are not extorted from her as was the indemnity which Germany imposed on France in 1871. Germany then imposed a fine on France, but today the allies are not compelling Germany to make restitution and reparation for the wanton destruction she has caused in Belgium, France, Serbia and other countries and for the crimes committed against inoffensive non-combatants.

combats contrary to all the accepted usage of war.

The peace treaty, however, is much more than the infliction of just punishment on Germany for the horrors of the war; it is a declaration of principles for the guidance of all nations, large and small, in their dealings with one another. It does even more than that—it lays down principles which are to govern within the world itself, and in their dealings with their own people.

Well defined principles are laid down under which the more advanced nations are to be entrusted with mandatory powers over less advanced territories and less enlightened peoples. Where people are not yet capable of self-government, they have to be governed, not for the benefit and aggrandizement of the governing body, but for the benefit and the welfare of the people themselves. So, too, it is clearly defined that in all nations the man who works with his hands, and puts his physical strength in his work, is no longer to be regarded as a mere commodity to be used for the benefit of others, but as a partner in the world's work.

No longer are the small and weak nations of the world to be forced to live in constant dread under the menace of a rattling sword in the hands of a stronger nation; no longer are peoples and races to be held subject to a foreign yoke no longer will the ruthless Turk be allowed to put helpless Armenians to the fire and sword; no longer will it be necessary that millions of men be held in idleness in huge concentration camps while other millions are burdened with taxes to maintain them in idleness; no longer is the chief business of Europe to be war and preparation for war. The peace treaty declares that it is to be the international business of the world to create better living conditions for the masses, to provide safeguards for the health of mankind, to put down slavery in all its forms, to seek the destruction of the opium traffic, and to declare a war on war, to build up and benefit, not to tear down and blight.

The peace treaty and the League of Nations are not to be deferred. It is a human document, and subject to all human weaknesses and frailties. But its intention is good, and the best minds of the world have been responsible for its drafting. It may fail in its whole object, but failure will not result from a lack of earnest effort to attain success. It is the charter of a world's freedom—a contract of release from the age-old crime of war. It means for the masses of the peoples of the world, who are the real sufferers in all wars, to be freed from the burden of war, and to be lived up to and fully respected.

And Was Losing Control of Arms and Legs Because of Exhausted Condition of Nerves—Doctor Said He Could Do Nothing.

But Complete Cure Was Effected.

Cordova, Man, May 26. —To parents who are anxious or worried about the health of their growing children, this letter must bring a message of good cheer. So many cases similar to this one have been cured, that we are forced to consider Dr. Chase's Nerve Food the most effective treatment available for St. Vitus' Dance and all such conditions, which result from nervous exhaustion.

To children who are naturally nervous, the strain of school life is often more than they can bear, and the results are seen in headaches, nervousness, loss of appetite and indigestion. The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will bring about a change in their feet and restores health and vigor.

Mr. Win. Man, Cordova, Man, writes:

"My little girl, ten years old, was not very well, and I noticed some rather odd ways about her. She was very strongly attracted to me. I asked the doctor what could be the matter, and he said she had St. Vitus' Dance; to keep her quiet and out of school. He said to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I sent for six boxes, and started this treatment with my daughter. Before she had finished the first box I could see a great change in her, and by the time she had taken the six boxes she was completely cured. She is real well now, and going to school every day."

The Only Way to Attain Prosperity

George Merrick Speaks of Real Wealth in Western Provinces

George Merrick, of Merrick-Anderson, well known Winnipeg winemaker, who has been in the wine business for years, has taken a deep personal interest in all matters relating to agriculture in this province, expresses the conviction that the public men of Canada, and a great many others are putting the emphasis in this reconstruction period at the wrong point.

An agricultural province, with a rich and fertile soil, and the wealth which its people will have in future years must be got from the farm.

"Our government speaks about expenditures on railways, on canals, on the building of vessels and the construction of railway equipment, and so giving employment to soldiers, but nothing about production, nothing about the two-year-old holder, nothing about the production of food."

GEO. A. MERRICK Who reiterates the phrase of a famous British statesman, "Production, production, and again production."

and on the building of vessels and the construction of railway equipment, and so giving employment to soldiers, but nothing about production, nothing about the two-year-old holder, nothing about the production of food."

Not a word. How is the world going to be fed?

The newspapers fall us as well as our public men. I was at one of the city yesterday, calling on an old friend, and I was told how much land was between Winnipeg and Portage la Prairie which had never been under the plow. Why don't the newspapers juck us up and tell us who are in the city and who have a little money to go out in the country and arrange to get some of this land under cultivation? There are hundreds of men in Winnipeg who could take an interest directly in agriculture with the best results both to the farmer and the people of this province.

"Someone called on me a few days ago and asked me to talk about the wheat situation. I replied that the thing which I was most interested in at the moment was the wonderful cow which was on exhibition at the industrial bureau. We have been thinking too much about business and not enough about the cow. It is the cow which makes the province rich and prosperous, and give the people of the province what they require."

Finding Market For Range Horses

High Prices Present Great Problem

Ottawa. —At a gathering of representatives of the livestock interests of the Dominion here, plans were considered for the finding of a market for Canada's surplus of animals, more particularly of range horses in the west.

Mr. Arkell, Dominion livestock commissioner, who returned recently from a trip to England where he went to make a study of livestock conditions, reported among other things, that there is a market in Poland for half a million horses if this could be arranged. This is the big problem to be solved for with ocean freight rates at their present high level, it would be practically impossible to land horses in the European market at a salable figure and pay the western farmer a reasonable figure for his stock.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY'S WORK

DEPENDS UPON GOOD BLOOD TO NOURISH THE BODY

Weak People Need a Tonic, One Which Acts Directly Upon the Blood and that Does Not Weaken the Body By Useless Purging.

There are thousands of people throughout the world who are weak and whose strength to their day's work, and who are always tired out. They have but little appetite and a poor digestion. They cannot get a refreshing rest at night. They are subject to headaches, backaches and nervousness, because their blood is impure. I have had great cause to bless this decision, for by the time I had used a couple of boxes there was no doubt the pills were helping me, and in less time than I had anticipated the pills had cured me and I was again enjoying not only good digestion, but better health in every way than before.

BLOOD TURNED TO WATER

Mrs. Jessie McLean, Trenton, N.S. —"I was as weak as it was possible to be, and my blood was so thin that I was unable to go about. My blood seemed to have turned almost to water. I was pale, the least exertion would leave me breathless, and when I went up stairs I would have to stop and rest on the way. I often had severe headaches, and at times my heart would palpitate alarmingly. A good friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I have reason to be grateful that I took the advice. After beginning the use of the pills I began to get stronger, and by the time I had taken seven boxes I felt that I was again enjoying good health. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best thing I have ever used. I shall always warmly recommend them."

Bow Island*OBITUARY

Sad Death of Francis Ley.

On Saturday morning at the hour of 1 o'clock, on May 17th, the "Angel of Death" entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ley and took from their midst their only child and son Francis he was the pride of his parents and sunshine of their hearts; all that loving hands and kind hearts could do was done to prolong his life, but the burns were too severe and He who reigns supreme took him from our midst. The little lad at 1:30 P.M. started to burn up some thistles near the pig pen, and the flames being so strong it ignited the pigpen and his two pet pigs being in there he jumped in to save them, pulling one over the pen, and went for the second one when his clothing caught fire and burnt his legs, arms, and his face, still being inclined to get the pig when his mother came and insisted on him getting out of the pen, with her hands and is severely burnt herself. They at once summoned Dr. Baines and Dr. Gershaw who were passing on the road at the time. The Doctors said it was impossible for him to recover. Rev. Father McCoy came and administered to little Francis the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church. He was born in Bingham Canyon, Utah, on the 25th. of Oct. 1907, and moving to Northern Minnesota in infancy with his parents where they settled on a homestead and lived up to the time of 1911, when they moved to Bow Island. He was an active, bright, and ambitious boy and loved, by all who knew him. He will not be missed by his parents and relatives but by a large number of friends.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at the St. Michaels Church, and High Mass was held on Monday for the repose of his soul, by Rev. Father McCoy, these services were largely attended. He was laid to rest in Bow Island Cemetery.

The pall bearers were Frank Grand, Arthur, Russell Kirk, Gene Dalgube, Harold Smith, Lawrence Halpin

"A precious one from us is gone
A voice we loved is stilled
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors, who so kindly assisted us in the sickness and death of our son Francis. We especially wish to thank Father McCoy and Mr. and Mrs. Spiers, for their kind assistance.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ley

The "Review" extends deep sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Ley in their great loss. We all loved little Francis and he will ever be lovingly remembered by his little playmates Margaret and Arthur.

Question Being Discussed in PARIS, May 24.—The council of foreign ministers this morning heard arguments by Josephine Kerschel, Dutch foreign minister, and Paul Huguin, Belgian minister of foreign affairs, regarding the proposed revision of the treaty of 1839.

PARIS, May 20.—The commission appointed by the supreme council to arrange an armistice between Poland and Ukraine has been dissolved and the next development in the situation appears to depend on what action the Poles may take.

Division of Hun Shipping
LONDON, May 20.—The division of German mercantile shipping, which has been the subject of considerable discussion in England since the announcement that the United States was to receive all vessels interned in United States ports, was raised in the House yesterday by Ben Tillett, labor member for North Stafford. Mr. Tillett asked Bonar Law, the government spokesman, what steps the government was taking to claim a share of mercantile shipping in proportion to the losses sustained by the vessels detained in American waters.

Mr. Bonar Law said he could not discuss the matter, but hoped the government would treat the British delegates to protect their interests.

Horatio Bottomley, an independent member, asked whether it was not a convenient opportunity for President Wilson to prove the sincerity of his decision by making no claim for the ships and giving them to those who have borne the heat and burden of the war.

There was no answer given by Bonar Law.
